

EVOLVE LEVEL 2, Audioscript for Unit 5 Quiz A

Isabella: I'm here today to talk to Diego Martinez who works as a volunteer for Runners United Charity. Hi Diego, welcome to the show. Tell us about your first experience with the Charity. For our listeners, a charity is an organization which gives money and help to people who need it.

Diego: Hi Isabella. Thanks, it's great to be here. Yeah, well. I started as a volunteer for the charity in 2015. My first job was a lot of fun. I helped out on the annual charity run with another 20 volunteers. We walked along the route and helped anyone who got into trouble. I think I stopped about fifty times to help people, so it was good we were there!

Isabella: Seriously?!?! So, Diego, as a volunteer, what exactly was your job?

Diego: Well, the charity run wasn't very long, I mean it wasn't a marathon or anything, but some people came along without training beforehand. Some of them got so tired that they fell over in the middle of the road. In our job, we helped them stand up and move out of the way because it was dangerous to stay in the middle of the road. Then we gave them a glass of water or juice to help them feel better. Then they smiled, thanked me, got up and just continued. I felt kind of like a doctor – it was amazing! I was so proud of my work. It was a perfect day.

Isabella: Well, thanks so much for sharing this with us Diego. If anyone wants to sign up as a volunteer for this charity, head over to the Runners United Charity website www.charitynow.com....
