F Read the article. Then answer the questions.

Do you know that 56% of the US population and 11% of the Mexican population are sports fans? Some people say that fans are an important part of every game. Other people disagree. Do athletes and players look and hear the fans when they are playing?

During a game, fans often smile and sing because they are happy, especially if their team is winning. Fans also stand up and jump and shout. But when their team is losing a game, the fans stop singing and shouting. Some fans can sometimes cry. In tennis, fans usually watch the game on court in complete silence. And in baseball and basketball, the fans always make a lot of noise sometimes with musical instruments and players sometimes change their game.

Some fans love to watch their favorite sport on TV at home so they don't go out. Groups of fans often watch a game together, even if they are fans of different teams. I'm watching a game with my friends and family at the school field today because my son is playing soccer at 2 o'clock. I'm one of the fans! It's very exciting. While I'm watching my son's game, I also watch the other fans. It's awesome.

1 What do fans do when their favorite team is winning?

2 In tennis, how do fans watch the game?

3 What do fans do at a baseball or basketball match?

4 Where do some fans watch their favorite sports?

5 Who is the man watching today and where?
