A day in the life of a famous artist: Mike Gold

Mike Gold sings in a band called Gold Stars. He drives to different places in South America to play and sing his music with his band. Their next concert is in Teatro Metropolitán in Mexico City. It's an old movie theater but now they use it for concerts. Mike is writing some special music for that concert with his mother. She is a musician and she plays the piano. She sometimes helps him write the songs.

The song is about Superheroes because a movie director wants the song for his new movie which is coming out next year. The Gold Stars are playing different songs in Mexico City because he wants his fans to say if they like them. The fans are always happy to listen to his music and they never sit down during his concerts. They jump and sing and dance all the time.

After Mexico City, the Gold Stars are taking a break for a week in Cancun. They are staying at a nice hotel there, but they aren't going to the local music festival there because they want to relax. They love going to the hotel gym and lifting weights or relaxing by the swimming pool and listening to music on headphones. Sometimes they play video games. The hotel location is a big secret so their fans don't find them. Sorry fans, I can't say.
