

EVOLVE LEVEL 3, audioscript for Unit Quiz 6B

- John: Good evening. Welcome to Local Issues. On tonight's show, we're talking to three teenagers who want to make changes in the community. This is Marcos, from Ridgeview; Emily, from Hicksville; and Carly from Island Bay. Welcome to you all. Today's subject is trash. How do we get rid of it and make our city a nicer place to live? Marcos, let's start with you.
- Marcos: Yeah, thanks. I have an idea. I think if we politely ask the city to put more trash cans around, people will use them.
- John: Do you agree, Carly?
- Carly: Yes, I think that's a good start, Marcos. There are very few trash cans in the park, for example. We need more there.
- John: And you, Emily. Do you agree the city needs more trash cans?
- Emily: Yes, definitely. I see a lot of kids dropping trash. The shopping area downtown is pretty bad. There are so few trash cans there. Every time I go there, I see trash that's been dropped on the ground.
- Marcos: I'm tired of seeing so much trash around. We really need to do something about it. I know Carly and Emily agree with me, but we need a lot more people to help us if things are going to start changing.
- John: So how about talking to your friends at school? Would they help?
- Carly: Yes, I'm sure they would. We should explain clearly how they can help, though. Right, Emily?
- Emily: Good point, Carly. We need a plan! How about if we take some pictures of places that look beautifully clean and make them into posters?

Marcos: That's a fantastic idea, Emily. I'm sure a lot of people will join us if we do that.

John: It's great to hear you all sounding so positive. Does anyone have any other ideas?

Carly: Yes, actually, I was thinking we should organize a city clean-up day.

Emily: That's an awesome idea, Carly.

Marcos: Yes, nice one, Carly! We can involve all the local schools, maybe some of the clubs and churches, too?

John: Thank you all. We'll be checking in with you again next month to see how you're doing.
