

Unit Quiz 11B

Mom: Why don't you put your books in the other bag? This one is nearly full of clothes. If you fill it too full, it will be difficult to get off the train.

Karen: Don't fuss, Mom. It's fine.

Mom: I wish I could drive you there, but I've got a department meeting this afternoon and I just can't miss it. Now, have you packed all your shoes?

Karen: Yes, Mom. Please stop worrying. I'll be back again in two weeks to spend the weekend.

Mom: I know, but I remember taking you to school on your first day of kindergarten. That seems like it was yesterday. And now look at you!

Karen: Well, you should be happy for me that I got into college. My grades have never been the best...

Mom: Oh, I am proud. Very proud. Now, remember to make friends with the people in your dorm. Don't just stay in your room or you'll never meet people. They usually have a lot of social events for the freshmen the first week.

Karen: Yes, Mom. I have the info.

Mom: So, do it all! Really. Join as many clubs as you can. You like drama. I'm sure there's a drama society!

Karen: Mom, I'm going to college to study. Remember?

Mom: I know. But seriously, it's important to do other things. My parents made me study so hard, and looking back now I wish I had done more activities. You know, made the most out of college life.

Karen: OK, I will. I hadn't thought about drama. But that would be fun.

Mom: And be respectful to your professors. Remember that you're an undergraduate. Oh, and don't forget to text me as soon as you get there.

Karen: But you'll be in your meeting.

Mom: It doesn't matter. I'll have my phone with me. Now, how heavy is that bag?
