

Unit Quiz 2A

- Paulo: Hey, you two, we need to talk about our vacation.
- Janine: Hi, Paulo. The kids are so excited about the trip! What do we need to chat about?
- Paulo: Well, we need to talk about what food we're going to take. If we talk about it now, we won't have to make a shopping list when we get there. Svetlana, do you know if Anton is coming?
- Svetlana: I'm not sure. He's going to text me after he talks to his boss. As soon as I know, I'll call you.
- Paulo: OK. If Anton comes, there will be 13 of us. That's a lot to cook for!
- Janine: So let's make a list. I suggest that we buy lots of fruit for breakfast. You know, pineapple, kiwi, things that we can chop up once we're there.
- Svetlana: But if we buy too much fruit now, Janine, it won't last very long. I hate throwing away food.
- Paulo: You're right, Svetlana. We'll just buy enough fruit for the first couple of days. We should buy meat, though. It will last quite a few days if we put it in the fridge. We need to do that as soon as we get there.
- Svetlana: Good idea. If the weather is good, we can barbecue the meat. That's much healthier than frying.
- Janine: Well, I'm afraid I won't be eating any meat. I'm only eating vegetables and some fish these days. Ah, and gluten-free food, too. I think I may have an allergy.
- Paulo: Really, Janine? Maybe you've been reading too much about the benefits of gluten-free food. It's all the rage at the moment. Don't you think that it's just a fad?
- Svetlana: Hey, Paulo, if Janine doesn't want to eat meat or gluten, that's fine with me. Now, let's think about dinner.
