

Unit Quiz 5A

- Tina: Hi Silvia, it's Tina. How are things? I'm really looking forward to this weekend.
- Silvia: Oh, no, Tina! I completely forgot that we had made plans.
- Tina: We were supposed to go to the movies to see that new film with Ryan Gosling. It's a real tearjerker.
- Silvia: I was going to call you earlier, I promise. I had written it on my calendar but then I forgot to check it. If it makes you feel any better, I've forgotten a lot of things that I was supposed to do. This isn't the only plan I've messed up! I've had so much to think about recently.
- Tina: Why are you so distracted? Is everything OK?
- Silvia: Well, not really. Remember I took an exam in accounting last week?
- Tina: Yes, I remember. You were worried because you hadn't studied enough.
- Silvia: Exactly. Well, I studied quite a bit in the end, but I still failed it. Now I have to retake the whole module again.
- Tina: Oh, no.
- Silvia: And that's not all. Remember I told you that I had been hanging out with that boy named Mauricio?
- Tina: Yeah, he's cute.
- Silvia: Well, we split up last week. We were supposed to go out on a date this week, but he said he had forgotten about it when I called him.
- Tina: Oh, so you're not the only one who forgets things!
- Silvia: No, you don't understand! He knew I had asked, but made up forgetting as an excuse not to get together again. Oh, well. I guess he wasn't so cute after all!
- Tina: Ah Silvia. I'm really sorry to hear all this. It's too bad about the weekend but I guess I'll hang out with my family instead. Let's try and get together before the end of the month.
